From 2007 – today

Senior Specialist - Team Leader Fire & Safety at Lloyd's Register EMEA Trieste Technical Support Office (TTSO) – website: www.lr.org/marine

Generally dealing with passenger ships and yachts for the new building and existing worldwide market (mainly European and US, partially Asian), I am in charge for coordinating the appraisal projects with other local disciplines and with our worldwide offices for the aspects related to the passive fire protection, fire detection systems, public address and general alarm systems, fixed fire-extinguishing system (water mist, sprinkler, carbon dioxide, “FM200”, “Novec”, etc), life saving appliances arrangements and navigation aids. For the above mentioned aspects I am the focal point for local and international clients continuously delivering training and coaching colleagues. I am familiar with risk assessment techniques and relevant processes. I have delivered training courses at universities (Trieste and Gorizia) and also to colleagues and other companies. In numerous occasions I have covered the role of the Project Manager, especially for refitting projects. Occasionally I have also surveyed products (doors, dampers, windows, wet units) at Manufacturer sites. I am nominated Resource Authoriser and Activity Monitor for fire & safety authorization codes.

From 2002 to 2007

Senior Naval Architect – Tecnomare (ENI Group) – website: www.tecnomare.it

Generally dealing with transport barges, FPSO, TLPs, SPAR and jackets, I have been involved in several offshore projects at several design levels (basic, conceptual, feasibility, design) for the definition of the main ship systems including definition of the main dimensions, ballast system, on board communication system, main fire system and evaluation of the main performances including calculations for the stability aspects and the mooring systems. Moreover I have been continuously involved in supporting the project manger team for the estimation of the project costs.
